Site visits: May 1, 2026

We are in the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration<sup>1</sup>, and healing our lands and waters is at the forefront of all our minds and hearts. We must have healthy ecosystems for the benefit of all nature, including humans.

Our northern BC community of practice exists to build restoration practitioner efficacy and capacity through improved knowledge sharing, communication, and collaboration. Show your support for restoration efficiency and efficacy by sponsoring the next regional knowledge sharing event.

Who is a Restoration Practitioner?

Anyone interested in the delivery of a restoration project, including professionals, academics, authorities, First Nations, stakeholders, funders, partners, governmental and non-governmental groups, and individuals interested in restoration.

All sponsorships will be recognized by

- Organization logo on the Community of Practice (CoP) conference web page and conference correspondence;
- Verbal acknowledgement during conference closing remarks; and
- Salutations on the programme.

In addition, sponsors receive recognition and brand placement by level, as shown in the below table.
